LOWER COURT CONFIRMED AFTER THREE YEARS COSTLY LITIGATION

J. F. Wienke, the Moss Beach capitalist, brought foreclosure proceedings in the superior court of this county on April 24, 1912, against C B. Smith and others to recover the sum of $43,655.25. The property on which the mortgage was to be foreclosed consisted of a large tract of land near the ocean and owned by Mr. Wienke for a number of years. Some time prior to the suit he sold the land to the defendants, they advancing $20,000 on the property and giving a mortgage of nearly $40,000 on the property for the balance of the purchase price. Mr. Wienke received a judgment in the superior court of this county for the amount of $43,655.25 on January 13, 1915. C. B. Smith took an appeal from the decision to the supreme court on March 15, 1915. On November 4, 1918 that tribunal rendered a decision confirming the judgment of the lower court. The litigation was a long one and bitterly fought on both sides. The property now reverts to Mr. Wienke. Daniel A. Ryan the well-known San Francisco attorney appeared in all the proceedings for Mr. Wienke.

MRS. ETHEL MASTERS PASSED AWAY WEDNESDAY

On Wednesday at 6:15 p. m. Mrs. Ethel Price Masters passed out of this life into the other at her father's home in this city. But a short time since her husband brought her from her new home in Richmond for a visit to her parents. He returned to his work there with the Standard Oil company, and she was enjoying a pleasant home visit with her parents and neighbors. When the influenza reached Richmond he was taken sick, and being alone the family had him come home for proper attention and care. He soon recovered enough to be out of a sick bed. Then Mrs. Masters took sick, and soon it became evident she had pneumonia, and notwithstanding the efforts of the physician and the loving care of her family and nurse, the disease terminated fatally on November 6. She was a warm-hearted friend, a dutiful daughter and a loving and devoted wife, and will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends and neighbors.

She was born here in August, 1892 and here grew to womanhood. She completed the grammar school and was for two years a student in the Sequoia Union High School. About five years ago she was married to Harold Masters. To them was born a son now about four months old. At the time he most needs a mother's love and care she is taken from him. We think we understand the ways of providence and find solace when the old go down in peace to their graves; but when a young mother is taken, and a man is left helpless in his sorrow so far as anything he can do, we do not understand, and there seems no solace. And yet no matter how dark the cloud, even in the night of death "hope hears the rustle of a wing and looks up."

All is of God! If he but wave His hand,
The mists collect, the rain falls thick and loud,
Till with a smile of light on sea and land,
Lo he looks back from the departing cloud.

Angels of Life and Death alike are His;
Without His leave they pull no threshold o'er;
Who, then, would wish or dare, believing this
Against His messengers to close the door.

Services were held at the Price home on the State Highway at 2 p. m. on November 8, interment was at the San Mateo cemetery.

MRS. VIOLA T. MOORE TENDERLY LAID TO REST WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Viola T. Moore, wife of Harry E. Moore of this city, was laid to rest in Cypress Lawn cemetery, at Colma, on Wednesday morning. The young woman passed away at her home at 530 Roosevelt avenue after an illness of two weeks the victim of influenza.

The death of Mrs. Moore is pathetic in that she leaves two young sons, three and the other five. In addition to her children and her husband she is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Sahlberg, and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Ted Fowler, Mrs. H. Clattenburg of this city; Mrs. Nelson Lamson of Burlingame, Mrs. George O'Sullivan, wife of Lieutenant O'Sullivan of the U. S. Medical Corps and stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas; Charles, Albert, Oscar and Adolph Sahlberg, all of this city. Mrs. Moore was a native of Redwood City and was 28 years old.

Kopperud of Oakland, was filed with the town trustees Monday night by George A. Merrill, chairman of the San Mateo County Exemption Board and former member of the city council, whose home is on Arlington road. The board set Monday, November 18 as the time for hearing the protest.

All the members of the board were present at Monday night's meeting.

THE ELECTION OF 1918 HAS PASSED INTO HISTORY

The election has come and gone. Some are happy and some are sad. The fates have given to some and taken from others. We congratulate the winners and wish them pleasant happy and profitable terms of office. We know they are good men or the people would not have given them the support they did. We are sorry that the exigencies of a political life force men to retire from positions which they have filled creditably and well but such is the nature of a Democracy. To the victor belongs the job. So Mr. Rice and Mr. Griffin we salute you. To Mr. Barg and Mr. Seely we would say, you both have reason to be proud of the good will and esteem of the people whom you served. Of Mr. Barg we can say that he retires from public office with the knowledge that he has been a good and faithful public servant. He has maintained a high standard of efficiency in his office. He has been punctual in the discharge of his duties and besides and above all he has been courteous and consistent and has helped everyone who has gone to his office whether on political or personal business. His term of office will be a help to him in whatever business he may engage as he has many good and loyal friends. Of Mr. Seely we can offer him also our good wishes. He has made a just and good administrator of the law. If he erred and we do not say that he did the error of the heart and not the mind. He also may retire from the office with the consciousness that he did his best and that he made many stanch friends while in public office.

100,000 MAJORITY FOR GOVERNOR STEPHENS

Governor Stephens has been elected by over 100,000 majority and his vote is still piling up. Mr. Stephens has made a splendid chief executive, honest, fearless and economical in conducting the affairs of the state We gave him all the support possible believing he was the best man for governor. The people may well congratulate themselves on his election. He will be a dignified and capable chief executive, one whom the people may feel proud of.

JUDGE T. J. LENNON ELECTED

Judge Thomas J. Lennon has been elected an associate justice of the supreme court, defeating Judge Lorigan by over 20,000 votes. This was a hard, bitter fight but the big vote received by Lennon in the northern part of the state won him the coveted prize. Our support of the Judge was purely sentimental, he being a schoolmate of the editor of this paper at St. Mary's College many years ago. The Judge is an able, clean and just man and will be a credit to the highest court in his native state.

E. A. HAYES DEFEATED

The defeat of Congressman E. A. Hayes is to be regretted at this time. Had he been returned Mr. Hayes would, no doubt, be the chairman of some important committees and would have been in a position to be of some help to his district. His defeat is laid to his vote on the early war measures of the president. Mr. Hayes in this regard says:

"I voted according to my sense of duty and my best judgment, and I have no apologies to offer," he said. "Four-fifths of my constituents approved my vote at the time, but subsequent events altered their view."

THE NEXT CONGRESS WILL BE REPUBLICAN

The next Congress will be Republican. The House will have a safe majority while the Republican majority in the senate will be very small. The next Congress will be called upon to enact important legislation and to solve intricate problems of state. Perhaps no Congress ever convened at Washington will have a greater task to perform. From the character of the men chosen by the people for the work it may be said in advance that all matters will be handled with ability and honesty and with credit to the great republic.

FAITH SATISFIES ENGINEERS

According to advices received from a gulf port at which the new concrete steamship Faith arrived recently from the Pacific, the maritime engineers are satisfied with the "stone" ship and believe that there will be others of the same type constructed in the future. They explain that the vessel has proved satisfactory in every respect and all that remains to be seen is what will happen in the event of a collision. As there is only one concrete steamer now floating the American flag, the engineers may have to wait for some time before their curiosity is satisfied, but according to the maritime experts here is it believed that if the vessels collide hard enough one or probably both would sink. The Faith was constructed in Redwood City.

ARCHBISHOP HANNA APPEALS TO CATHOLICS

In a stirring appeal to members of the Catholic church in California, the most Rev. E. J. Hanna, D. D., Archbishop of San Francisco, urges that "there must be no slackening of the welfare work so splendidly carried on by the seven religious and welfare organizations comprising the United War Work Campaign, "which will raise $5,000,000 in California from November 11 to 18 The organizations participating in the statewide canvass are the Salvation Army, Jewish Welfare Board, National Catholic War Council, Y. M. C. A., War Camp Community Service, Y. W. C. A. and American Library Association.

"It will require much more than a year to bring back the armies, even though that task began immediately" continues Archbishop Hanna. "Men will be idle, will lack the inspiration of war conditions during the demobilization period and then, even more than during the war itself, the welfare work will be necessary.

"It is in the spirit of true patriotism and co-operation and enthusiasm that Catholics will unite with their fellow citizens of all creeds in this new drive—the greatest ever made in the history of the world for philanthropic purposes.

"It is in this spirit that the Knights of Columbus and other Catholic organizations have worked from the beginning of the war, and it is in this spirit which will bring victory at last, yea and after victory will crown our peace with results truly American, truly democratic, truly worth the price of blood, of treasure and of devotion which all of us, Jew, Protest ant and Catholic alike, are pouring out upon the altar of liberty."

"Many an American girl at home is giving up fudge and frosted cake and eating her cereal without sugar ungrudgingly, but if you want to see real sacrifice, you should see the nurses in the American base hospitals here," writes a Y. W. C. A. secretary in charge of a "Y" hut at one of the hospitals.

Many a time," she continued, "I have seen a nurse tramp down a long dusty road to carry her dessert to some wounded boy, or make a batch of fudge for a ward of boys who have recovered sufficiently to enjoy it. If you could only hear the shouts of joy that go up on such occasions you would understand what your little sacrifices at home mean to the men at the front."

It is this real sacrificial work which is made possible through the raising of funds for the United War Work Campaign.

MISS WYRTIS McCURDY COUNTY EXECUTIVE OF VICTORY GIRLS DIVISION

Miss WyrtisMcCurdy, of Burlingame, has been appointed County Executive of the Victory Girls' Division of the United War Work Campaign in San Mateo County.

The purpose of a Victory Girls' Division is to afford an opportunity to the girls of America to share by serving and sacrifice in the winning of the war.

Enrollment in the division consists in signing a statement of purpose to "Earn and Give' 'a stated sum toward the United War Work Campaign Fund.

The Victory Girls' slogan is: "Every Girl Pulling for Victory." The attractive poster is a picture of a girl in a row boat "Pulling for Victory." The star of service appears in the background. A special "Victory" button and a "Victory" banner to hang in the home window are given when the subscription pledge is made. When the payment is fully made a certificate-receipt is given.

Mr. Roy W. Cloud, chairman of the Victory Boys in San Mateo County, has called a meeting of his committee for Friday afternoon, November 8, at 2 o'clock, at the San Mateo Union High school. As the work of the two divisions runs along parallel lines, a meeting of the Victory Girls captains will be held at the same time and place to discuss plans of organization.

CALIFORNIA AND CALIFORNIANS

BY GENERAL JOHN F. SHEEHAN

Major Richard Pindle Hammond

Major Richard Pindle Hammond was one of the most prominent and highly respected citizens of California during his 44 years residence in the state. He entered West Point from his native Virginia in 1837, graduating in 1841. Being assigned to the artillery branch of the service he participated in the war with Mexico; was breveted captain for gallant and meritorious service at the battle of Cerro Cordo, and major after Centrereras and Cherubusco. After the war was over he came to California and in 1848 was selected by Charles M. Weber to make the surveys in laying out the City of Stockton. In 1851 he resigned from the army, and was Speaker of the Legislative Assembly in 1852 and Collector of the Port of San Francisco in 1853. But Major Hammond was better known as a clubman and substantial citizen than as a politician, and his name was in fact never associated with the latter class. Prior to the adoption of the last charter for San Francisco Major Hammond was a Police Commissioner of San Francisco by appointment of the Governor of California and served as such officer continuously from 1878 to the time of his death, November 28, 1891, through five State administrations. Major Hammond, although from a slave state, was a Douglas Democrat in 1860-61 and was always considered a Union man. He was a prominent member of the Pacific Union Club for many years. His oldest son, Harry T. entered West Point from California and graduated in 1877; in 1882 he was Colonel of a regiment of the National Guard of California, but died the following year. That the name will be perpetuated we have only to give the record of the second son of Major Hammond. John Hayes Hammond is distinguished throughout the world as one of the most eminent mining engineers of this era. He was born in San Francisco March 31, 1855, and after his minor education in public and private schools of California received the degree of A. M. at the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale in 1876, afterwards taking a course in mining at the Royal School of Mines at Freiburg, Saxony. In 1880 he was special expert of the United States Geological Survey in examining gold fields of California and Mexico; later he was consulting engineer for the Union Iron Works and Southern Pacific Railroad Co. In 1893 he became consulting engineer for Barnato Bros., afterwards acting in like capacity for Cecil Rhodes in the gold fields of South Africa, and was one of the leaders in the reform government of that country.

During the Boer troubles, after the Jameson raid in the Transvaal, 1895-6, with which he was not in sympathy, John Hayes Hammond was arrested, confined in Johanesburg and sentenced to be shot by the Boers; his sentence was commuted to 15 years imprisonment, and finally he was released on payment of a fine of $125,000. Every effort of the United States Government was brought to bear to secure his release After leaving South Africa Mr. Hammond was engaged by the Guggenheim Exploration Co. to examine mining properties in Mexico and the United States at an enormous salary—said to have been the largest ever given to an individual. The world has been his field as a mining engineer. The Stevens Institute of Technology conferred upon him the degree of D. E. in 1906, and he also received in 1907 the degree of L. L. D. from St. John's College. Mr. Hammond married Natalie Harris of Mississippi, a young lady of great beauty and refinement. Hammond has been a warm personal friend and political adherent of ex-President Taft, and was urged as a candidate for vice-President with the former President. He has lectured at Columbia, Yale, Harvard and Johns Hopkins Universities, and served as President of the American Institute of Mining Engineers in 1907-8. He has offices in New York and London. Other members of Major Hammond's family were Richard P. Hammond, Jr., Wm. H. Hammond and one daughter. His son, Richard, was a popular son of California. As Commissioner of Golden Gate Park he secured the services of John McLaren as Superintendent; he was also United States Surveyor General for California, by appointment of President Cleveland. Major Hammond in the early '50's married Sarah Eliza Hays, a sister of the famous Texan Colonel Jack Hays, who was the first sheriff of San Francisco, and after whom Jack Hays Hammond was named.

General Barnes and Senator Sharon

General Wm. H. L. Barnes, lawyer of unusual eloquence, sometime soldier, and always delightful as a raconteur, was wont to tell his friends of how fortunes were made in the "bonanza" days and as quickly lost. There was a dispute over the Kentuck mine of the Comstock lode and General Barnes was called by Senator Wm. Sharon as Consulting Counsel at a meeting held in San Francisco for final action. The trouble was adjusted in favor of Sharon in exactly 90 minutes, and the Nevada mining millionaire was so delighted that he drew his check in favor of Barnes for $37,500. The General was accustomed to large fees, but this broke the record. He decided that he needed a vacation, but before starting for a Russian river retreat he bethought him that while absent he might as well double the $37,500. Accordingly, waiting upon Sharon, he said; "Senator, you can just as well double this amount for me. I endorse this check over to you; invest it for me and I know you will do the best you can." General Barnes enjoyed his trip, with blissful anticipations, and within three weeks returned to the city, soon thereafter repairing to Sharon's office. Asking for his account, Mr. Sharon turned to his bookkeeper: "How does General Barnes' account stand?" The clerk soon answered: "He owes you $5000." Sharon nodded pleasantly, when the General turned with a remark not in accord with his usual urbanity: "Sharon, you can hunt in deeper levels than you will ever find on the Comstock for that $5000."

Jesse Benton Fremont—The Golden Gate

The name "Golden Gate," as applied to the neck of water five miles long by a mile and a half wide, connecting the Pacific ocean with the Bay of San Francisco, is credited to General John C. Fremont. It was long called "The Gate," but in 1848 the then Colonel Fremont in noting observations of his trip to California saw in the neck of water a likeness to the channel leading to the harbor of Byzantium or Constantinople, and named the Golden Gate. It is the ancient gateway which the English and French war vessels were now striving to enter and capture Constantinople, the San Francisco of Turkey. Lieutenant Ayala with his sloop of war, the San Carlos, first entered the Golden Gate on the night of August 5, 1775. General Fremont was not always as happy in his writings as his talented wife, Jessie Benton. It is related by her in her "Souvenirs of My Time," that in the late '50's her child was taken ill at their home in the Mariposa grant, which Fremont owned and lost. It was necessary to take the child to Stockton for medical treatment, and after a long day's hot, dusty ride at dusk their conveyance reached a wayside hotel at French Camp, about eight miles from Stockton. Exhausted, they could proceed no further, and rest and refreshment was sought at the hotel. When the proprietor, a burly Missourian, was informed that the wife of John C. Fremont was seeking shelter in his home the request was promptly denied, he stating in a loud tone from the spacious porch that noo ne belonging to that "Black Republican Abolitionist" could enter his house. Mrs. Fremont was in despair, but her wits were with her. Judging the nativity of the proprietor, she exclaimed: "Is there no one here who will give shelter to the daughter of Tom Benton of Missouri?" 'What's that?" said the proprietor. "Are you a daughter of old Tom Benton? If you are by the Lord Harry you shall have the best in the house. Here you (throwing a cane at one of the attendants) what are you gaping at? Get a move on and take that lady and child out—quick, too." That Missourian knew not the wife of John Charles Fremont, but he bent the knee and took off his hat to the daughter of "Old Tom Benton."

Who Was Emperor Norton?

Is a question frequently asked by people of the later generation. And oftentimes the old timers are at a loss to answer, except that he may have known the "Emperor" as a harmless character who was seen in public places every day and often in the Legislature halls and at noted gatherings. His costume was as near as possible to the uniform of an army General, including the glittering apaulettes and yellow sash, with such decorative emblems as could be obtained. The hat was in the form of a low "plug" with a wide band, but this part of the costume varied. Emperor Norton was eccentric yet harmless. He neither molested any one nor was molested or even jeered at. Even the children while regarding him with awe, looked on him with kindly eyes and treated him with respect. He was never known to beg but rather expected to be maintained by the public, especially the wealthy. When he was short of money, as he was on frequent occasions, he would issue a draft on some well-known merchant or banker, signed by "Norton I, Emperor of the United States and Protector of Mexico," as he styled himself, and it would always be honored. These drafts, however, were for modest sums, $5, $10 or perhaps $20, as the Emperor did not live in royal style. His wants were simple as his demeanor. Joshua A. Norton was his real name, and it is known that he came to California in 1849 from Rio Janerio, but there is no trace of his birth, although it was generally supposed he was born in England of Hebrew stock. Some claimed he was a natural son of Napoleon III, from a likeness to the French Emperor, but on comparison to the ages of the two the claim is dispelled. In the early '50's Joshua Norton was in business as a commission merchant in the Wright building at the corner of Jackson and Sansome streets, but by the financial crisis of 1855, involving the failure of Page, Bacon & Co. and other banking houses, he lost all, and never recovered his standing as a business man. Norton died January 8, 1880, at No. 16 O'Farrell street, San Francisco, aged about 65 years, and was buried at the expense of Joseph G. Eastland and other members of the Pacific Union Club. About $6 were found on his person.

J. J. MURRAY SEEKS LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

J. J. Murray has filed the last will and testament of the estate of Mrs. Johanna O'C Sullivan, who died at Menlo Park on October 19, 1918 The estate consists of an undivided one-half interest in the estate of her sister, Mrs. Catharine O'Connor, now in course of settlement in the probate court of San Francisco. The interest is valued at $3500. The will was executed on April 17, 1918 and the subscribing witnesses were, Eugene D. Sullivan and Mrs. A. W. Driscoll. By the terms of the will the entire estate is bequeathed to her husband, Mortimer Sullivan of Menlo Park. The decedent made a clause in the will asking that a monument to cost $600 be placed over her grave at Holy Cross cemetery, Menlo Park. She also made a provision in her will that if her husband had predeceased her, her estate was to be bequeathed to friends and relatives whom she named and to the Catholic church at Menlo Park. Her husband having survived this part of the instrument is null and void. Mr. Sullivan is 81 years old and an invalid. Mr. Murray has applied for letters testamentary upon the will which names him the executor to serve without bonds. Eugene D. Sullivan of San Francisco is the attorney for petitioner.

APPLIES FOR LETTERS

Henry A. Freese has applied in the superior court for letters of administration upon the estate of Elizabeth Freese, who died on October 23, 1918. The estate consists of certain lots near Colma, valued at $500. The petitioner, who lives at Colma, is the only child.

SAN CARLOS ITEMS

Since the "flu" struck us two weeks ago there has been very little circulation in or out of San Carlos, and hence no news.

Having served so faithfully and regularly we believe we can boast of the most efficient election board in the whole state; and were a civil service examination required we believe each of them would pass a 100 per cent. They handled their work expeditiously and with dispatch and hence get through and get to bed much earlier than most boards. They were composed of: Inspector, Mrs. Marian McDonnell Lippman; judges, Clarence E. Haydock and Mrs. Mary Heaney Johnson; clerks, Mrs. Kate Kidder Farnham, Mrs. Mary Curry Quinn and Mrs. Effie C. Mahany. Occasionally Asa E. Hull, John V. Clark, Miss May Quinn, Miss Mary L. Farnham, Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. C. E. Haydock alternate with one or the other of the above.

The genial justice of the peace elect S. J. Fisher, was one of the first to show up in San Carlos Wednesday morning after the election and extend his grateful thanks through political headquarters to the people of San Carlos for their splendid vote of confidence. Mr. Fisher and Porter E. Lamb each received 42 votes here while Mr. McCormick received 28. We believe that Mr. Fisher has every prospect of retaining the office which he has just won so long as he wants it.

Some one in the Division Storekeeper's office at San Francisco played a great joke on Section Foreman Stacy. Eight one hundred gallon barrels of oil were shipped here to him to be used in oiling the station platform. When Mr. Stacy and his gang of men begun to distribute the oil, out of the 800 gallons they found ten gallons of oil and the balance was water. It may be that the friend connected with the store department believed that Stacy had the power to convert water into oil.

Lieutenant Louis La Place, a former policeman in San Francisco for many years a special officer, in the employ of the Southern Pacific company and who is now in the thick of the fight at the front has found a golf ball way out in "No Man's Land" and has sent it to Chief of Police White as a souvenir or war relic. Lieutenant La Place has proven himself a hero in a good many instances. While on the police force in San Francisco he was shot while arresting a burglar; one leg was broken while pursuing a murderer and was nearly burned to death while rescuing a little girl from a burning building. Mrs. La Place is the sister of Mrs. M. E. Quinn of San Carlos.

Owing to the epidemic requiring all show houses to close, Milton K. Smith, who is connected with the Fulton Theatre, Fifteenth street, Oakland, with his mother, Mrs. W. D. Smith have taken advantage of the opportunity to tour the southern part of the state in their new Page car. Visiting and enjoying all of the sights and attractions in and around Los Angeles, Riverside and San Diego. They also enjoyed short sojourns at the more attractive smaller places en route both going and returning; winding up their very enjoyable trip with a visit to the Yosemite, and they are now temporarily domiciled at their home here until the "flu" has spent its force sufficiently to permit the show business to go on again. The Smiths have had as their guests in this delightful tour: Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Lugg and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh K. Knox. Mr. Lugg is connected with the Fulton Theatre as treasurer and Mr. Knox is associated with the samc institution as stage director. Mr. Guy C. Smith, son of Mrs. W. D. Smith, owns large interests in the play house and is also manager.

Mrs. R. P. Hurlbut and her daughter, Miss Murial Clark, who have been sojourning in the metropolis for several weeks, have returned to their home for the winter and every one is glad to see them back.

For the privilege of voting here the genial district attorney presented the election board with a basket of lucious grapes.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Modie with Master Cowgill Modie came down from Lomita Park Sunday to spend the day with Mrs. Modie's parents.

By John E. COWGILL

In memory of his close friend and associate, Robert E. Denehy, telegrapher in the superintendent's office at Stockton, California, who died from Spanish influenza at his home Saturday, November 2. Mr. Denehy was former local chairman and for years an active and enthusiastic member of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, and was held in very high esteem by railroad men of all classes on the Southern Pacific lines:

We stand in silent awe at the bier of such a man
And in our finite weakness humbly question Infinity's great plan,
That would take from us one of our dearest and best,
Endowed with every attribute and virtue of the noblest.

Your life dear Bob, was an open book
Never a backward nor an untoward look;
Under a bushel your light was never hid; loyal, ardent, stanchest friend,
Ever pressing onward and upward to a noble end.

No draping of the lodge room would increase our sadness in the loss,
Such outward show would only be as subterfuge and dross.

Aurevoir. Good-bye—farewell? It cannot be dear friend;
With your sweet spirit hovering o're us, 'tis not the end.
You, through your nobleness have passed to a grander sphere
While we, less worthy, are left to linger here.

Postmaster John E. Cowgill, has been tendered the position as state secretary of the National League of Postmasters by State President C. F. Keller, postmaster, Inglewood, California. This organization comprises only the third and fourth class postmasters. Owing to his wide experience in and his great faith in organizations of this kind, and as an agency for collective bargaining, and the amelioration and uplift of those affiliated with such institutions, Mr. Cowgill is tempted to accept the work and lend his support toward making the California branch one of the strongest and most active in the national league if he can find time from his work in connection with the Order of Railway Telegraphers to do so. He still has the offer under consideration.

County Auditor J. J. Shields, Supervisor W. H. Brown, each receiving 71 votes were accorded the greatest complimentary vote in the regular election than any official not having an opponent.

Until it becomes compulsory, San Carlos will start no Sugar Bank, as suggested by the Redwood City Democrat. Let the Democrat make this little innovation binding upon the Redwood City cormorants and San Carlos will fall into line.

Mrs. L. Benedict and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. P. A. Palmer with her little daughter, Elain, and her delightful twin babies, Marjorie and Jean have just arrived from Detroit Michigan, and have taken apartments at the Hurlbut's for the winter.

Mrs. Benedict is a native daughter of California and while she and her husband have been making their home in the east for the past ten years she has never lost her affection for the dear old state of California. Mrs. Benedict is a relative of the de Lagards of Belmont, and has chosen San Carlos for her winter residence in order to be near her folks. She and her daughter-in-law have come to California to escape the rigorous winters in the region of the great lakes. San Carlos is very fortunate in securing these charming people and the three bright little tots, if only for a stay of a few months. With her youthful appearance it is not easy to think of Mrs. Benedict as Grandma.

Owing to severe headache and slight fever Geo. McDonald was forced to leave his work in the Southern Pacific building and come home early Wednesday afternoon. While his condition is not serious he has taken every precaution to escape any serious developments.

MENLO PARK NEWS OF ALL SORTS

Doings at Peninsula Garden Spot As Told in Breezy Style By Our Reporters

Cartons for the soldiers' Christmas are in charge of Mrs. John MacBain, Menlo Park and may be obtained by those having the Red Cross labels sent by a soldier in the service.

Sigel Friedman, a former constable of this place, passed away with the flu at Mayfield on Tuesday last. He was well-known in this locality. He made a splendid officer, fearless and courageous in the discharge of his duty.

Charles Swain, a former resident of Palo Alto and well-known here, passed away at Oakland with the prevailing epidemic. His brother died with the same malady only two weeks ago. The deceased was a brother of Professor Swain of Stanford.

The election on Tuesday, passed off quietly, there being no interest taken in the result whatever. It was probably the quietest election that has ever taken place in Menlo Park. About a third of the voters stayed away from the polls.

The Sobel Drug company opened its doors during the week with a full line of drugs after being closed for several weeks owing to a fire that occurred in the building. Mr. Sobel has put in a complete line of drugs.

Ravenswood has been classed as the healthiest place in the county It has been free from the dreaded influenza. There is a unit of 400 soldiers at the remount station there which escaped the disease. They live in barracks which has been thoroughly ventilated. The doors and windows have been open day and night admitting the refreshing breeze of the bay which immediately killed the influenza germ and keeping them away from the barrack. There has not been a single case of the disease at the remount station.

Red Cross gauze masks may be procured at the Menlo Park Pharmacy. Mr. McNally has volunteered to take charge of them and will dispose of them at 10 cents a piece. The proceeds will go to the Red Cross.

Mrs. Kate Bradley, wife of the late Frank Bradley and a former old time resident of Menlo Park, passed away in San Francisco at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. F. Gutherie, with whom she had made her home for many years on Wednesday last, a victim of influenza. She was interred in Holy Cross cemetery, here yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Bradley is survived by four children, James Bradley, Mrs. J. F. Gutherie, William Bradley and Mrs. K. Wesenduck. Professor William Bradley is a golf instructor at the Lakeside-Olympic Golf Club. He was for many years attached to the Presidio Golf Club. Mrs. Gutherie has been identified with the San Francisco Golf and County Club for over twenty years.

The Misses McKinnon have moved from San Francisco to occupy their pretty home on Glenwood avenue for the winter months. Murray Innis, who occupied the place all summer has taken apartments in the city.

Mrs. J. F. Merrill has returned to her home at Atherton after an absence of over a year. Her place had been occupied by A. McGregor, son of J. F. McGregor, manager of the Union Iron Works of San Francisco. He has returned to the city.

Attention is called to the big advertisement of the Regent at Palo Alto. Look it over ladies and you will find it interesting.

Joseph Stengel, a former old resident of Redwood City, passed away and was buried at San Mateo last week. Mr. Stengel worked for a number of years at the Frank Tannery but for the past six years has been engaged at a San Mateo lumber yard. He leaves a wife and five children to mourn his death.

RESULT OF ELECTION TUESDAY

Very little interest was manifested in the recent election, not more than seventy-five per cent of the voters came to the polls. Stephens only carried the county by 100 votes and Young for lieutenant governor by 96 votes. E. A. Hayes defeated Hersman by 552 votes in the county. Lennon for supreme court justice beat Lorigan 525 votes and Wilbur by 200. Lennon's majority in the state will be about 25,000 votes over Lorigan. Sheehan has defeated Funge by 1503 votes. Rice has beaten Barg by 532 votes. Griffin has received a plurality of three votes over Seely. John Pitcher has been elected justice of the peace of the fourth township by 11 votes. Amendment No. 1 carried in the county by 150 votes while amendment No. 22 was defeated by 2529 votes. Amendment No. 10 was carried by 1724 but was defeated in the state. Jos. H.
